Fat Tuesday
The Event Just Got Bigger – and Better!

We’re kicking off the month with one of our favorite celebrations and my how it has grown! Fat Tuesday this year has a whole new element added and you won’t want to miss out on the fun either as a participant or spectator! Join us on Tuesday, March 4 in the Business Center parking lot at 5:30 p.m. where you will be joined by the Bonefish Bonnies, the Racquet Club, the Members Fitness Center team and even a Krewé from the Dog Park, among others, who will make the Parade route down to the Fishing Village. The Chapel Choir will sing “When the Saints Go Marching In” so whether you want to bring your cart or just stand and cheer them on, it’s sure to be a sight worth seeing! There will also be a special tribute to our Veterans who will join in the Walking Procession led by King & Queen Sam and Edwina Friedman. Once at the Fishing Village the party will begin where we will celebrate in true New Orleans style with great food, music and company, and the “Sauce Boss”. The Fat Tuesday celebration continues in the Fishing Village until 9:00 p.m. where you can enjoy Chef Damia’s Cajun fare, New Orleans style drinks and all your favorite Street Fair fun. If you would like more information on how to participate in the Procession, or if you are a Veteran that would like to join in, please call Member Events at 305-367-6526.

After you have recovered from all the Mardi Gras-style excitement, there is plenty more on the March calendar, including a Mardi Gras cooking class featuring recipes from around the world on Wednesday, March 5.

Pisces V Wins Sailfish Classic
One Tournament Left for ORC Sailfish Championship

While the sunny skies and balmy breezes have made just about everything on The Reef delightful, those vying for the ORC Sailfish Championship have been a bit “cold” to the temperatures. January’s Reef Cup saw a total of 138 releases, up from 2013, but nowhere near the numbers from past years. With sixteen boats in the fleet, the participant number was the highest in the Sailfish Classic’s history but with just 50 releases, no other records were set.

The Menten family aboard their boat PISCES V would take first place with eight releases. Recent team accolades include Top Junior Angler honors for 14-year old Dylan Menten in the 2014 Reef Cup and first place in the 2012 Reef Cup.

1st PLACE:
PISCES V
Peter Menten, David Menten, Dylan Menten, Drake Menten

2nd PLACE:
MR. NICE
Steve Armington, Bryan Marguleis, Bobbie Armington

3rd PLACE:
RAPTOR
Steve Smith, Steve Smith, Jr., Vic Falk, Dick Wallace

Other tournament notables included Andrea Villareal of COIN OPERATED who took the Overall Lady Angler honors with three releases. Steve Smith, Jr. on RAPTOR caught the first fish of the day and Overall Male Angler award with six releases.

Marina Fuel
New Pumps, New Technology, Lower Cost

Recently installed fuel pumps for both Diesel and Ethanol Free Gas make the convenience of fueling with your Club even better. Not only do they pump at a much higher rate in addition, as an Equity Member or Social Member that is staying with the Club, they now automatically calculate in your discount.

There is also a new Competitive Model for determining the fuel pricing. If you have been fueling your boat at the Marina this change will be a pleasant surprise, but if you have not traditionally looked to the Club for your marine fuel there are now more reasons than ever. Each week the Dock office posts the current fuel prices for nearby marinas. You will be able to immediately see the value available in purchasing from your Club Marina. Looking for larger volume? Further price reductions are available for over 1,000 gallons and a quick call to the Dockmaster will put us to work in providing significant value.

Our 2010 census tells us that there are over 1400 boats here at Ocean Reef. Now these members can enjoy the convenience and value in filling with high quality fuel at a very competitive price.
Safeguarding
Our Community
Cheers! Without Tears
by Ken Dewey
ORCA Vice Chairman

“A Unique Way of Life”… “a refuge from the clamor and demands of the world beyond our boundaries”… “the reassurance of world-class security and public safety”… “a place where privacy is paramount, security is assured, and family comes first”. This is our magical world, created by the exceptional talents of the Club and safeguarded by ORCA and Public Safety. In experiencing the magic, however, it is easy to overlook the fact that the laws of nature, common sense and the State of Florida still apply. Nowhere more seriously than when operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Yes, these things apply even on our privately-owned streets and paths, as well as to automobiles, carts and motor scooters.

Protocols are in Place
We all know that enjoying cocktails or wine with a meal, experiencing the Reef Lounge, Bargee Bar or other gathering spots can involve alcohol consumption that impairs our ability to operate an automobile, golf cart or motor scooter. And who hasn’t seen films showing the consequences of driving under the influence? Even at our 25 MPH speed limit, serious risks exist. Just last weekend, an early morning incident involved a driver who caused a minor accident, fled the scene and lost control of his automobile, damaging it extensively, destroying landscaping along Marlin Lane in the process. Fortunately, airbag deployment prevented the driver from being injured, and he narrowly avoided colliding with a golf cart carrying four people. Public Safety responded to check the driver for injuries, per protocol, the Sheriff’s Department investigated for evidence of DUI. The outcome of which is not the message, it is the fact that this could have been easily avoided.

Safe Transport Options
Part of our magic is recognizing that an atmosphere of celebration exists here, and providing means for individuals to continue the fun without endangering themselves or others when the party is over. Have you seen the Public Safety officer stationed in the Fishing Village on busy nights? Part of his job is to encourage anyone unable to drive safely to be transported home (along with their vehicle) either by the bell stand or Public Safety. What other community provides this kind of service? And this is available to everyone on the Reef, no matter where or when the situation arises. It’s as simple as calling Public Safety, who will gladly assist you. They far prefer this to transporting someone off the Reef via ambulance or helicopter.

In the end, preserving our Unique Way of Life depends on all of us, not only those we have hired to assist us. We encourage you to share this message with visiting friends and family and to set a good example by using the resources available to safeguard yourself and all those around you.

Donation Drive and Car Seat Inspections
Reminder you can donate your unused children items (clothing, blankets, books, stuffed animals) to the Florida Keys Healthy Start Coalition on March 4 from 1 – 4 p.m., in the Cultural Center parking lot. The Healthy Start Coalition, an organization based in Monroe County, provides resources to improve the health and well-being of early families. Specifically, the items collected will be donated to families with children from birth to age five. In addition, safety technicians will be available to check your car seats to ensure they are properly installed. Parents or grandparents should bring children with them or know their exact height, weight and age to have your car seat inspected for safety.

MEET ANDY HOFMANN

Our real estate agents embody the core of the Ocean Reef Promise through their daily commitment to Member Satisfaction. Andy Hofmann, a Florida native with 20 years of exceptional success building relationships in premier real estate and finance companies, joined Ocean Reef Club Real Estate Company (ORCREC) late last year. In his relatively short time here, he has already demonstrated the importance of having our own member-focused real estate organization. Member Mike Berman had a dear friend who had sold her New Orleans home and was moving to Ocean Reef Club. Working through another property management company, the woman had found a rental property. However, just days before her arrival, the contract was cancelled—the owners had decided not to rent their unit—and she was devastated. Mike Berman called ORCREC, explained the situation to Andy Hofmann, and within an hour, he had managed to find a Pumpkin Cay three-bedroom with an ocean view that was perfect for Mike’s friend. The residence was previously only available for sale but in working with fellow team member Mary Lee, together they were able to come up with a rental option that was ideal for both home owner and tenant. “Andy not only worked some magic, he went above and beyond to make my friend feel comfortable, welcomed and worry free,” said Mike. “We are very fortunate to have our own real estate company that applies the same exceptional standards and services that we are accustomed to as members. Many people and departments came together to make this wonderful lady’s experience a memorable one.”

The Membership Speaks Out

The Medical Center’s 2013 survey disclosed that 96% of the respondents indicated that the Medical Center was a valuable asset to the Community.

Would You or Could You Live Here Without It?
Given The Reef’s isolated location it would be pretty tough to go to Miami or Tavernier every time you had a medical problem.

Thirty percent of members surveyed said they “would not live at the Reef if the Medical Center is not present” and 79% of members also indicated that the Medical Center is a place of primary care while at the Reef.

What do Members say?
“Without the Medical Center we couldn’t make our permanent home at Ocean Reef. We remember when members our age left in order to be near a good medical facility. No longer! We have the best of care at our doorstep. When our extended family comes to visit we know that their needs will be looked after too. It’s the best of all worlds, a perfect place to live and a perfect place to take care of our medical needs”.
– Duke and Betty Marx

The Top Five
The survey revealed that members ranked key services as follows:
1. 24/7 access and after hours coverage
2. Laboratory
3. On-site visiting specialist program
4. Imaging
5. Primary care

Fact: Since 2007, 70% of the Ocean Reef Community has utilized the Medical Center.
Fact: Annually there are more than 15,000 patient service encounters.
Fact: Only 43% of members are aware that the Medical Center receives no financial support through ORCA or ORC dues.
Fact: Just one-third of Ocean Reef members support the Medical Center.

Your support is needed. Quality 24/7 medical care is an expensive proposition. Medicare and other insurances continue to reduce provider reimbursements while the associated cost of providing medical care rises.

Your donations are critical in providing on-site medical care and you can help by supporting the Ocean Reef Medical Center Foundation.

In recognition of Heart Month, Jonathan Fialkow, M.D., medical director of clinical cardiology at Baptist Cardiac & Vascular Institute, together with Rene Fernandez, M.D., medical director of the Medical Center at Ocean Reef, discuss the latest findings on cardiovascular health.

Preventing heart disease and stroke is a primary goal of the nation’s leading cardiovascular experts. Based on new and ongoing research, they have updated prevention guidelines. “We’re targeting the people who are at much higher risk for heart disease or stroke at an earlier point in their lives,” Dr. Fialkow explains. “Earlier treatment improves the chances of avoiding problems.”

Q. What are the facts about heart disease and stroke?

A. About 610,000 Americans have a first stroke every year. Another 525,000 have a first heart attack. But risks can be lowered through lifestyle changes and, in some cases, medications such as statins.

Q. What are the main risk factors?

A. The new guidelines for preventing heart disease and stroke now include treating obesity as a disease and providing other resources to treat risk factors such as diabetes and high blood pressure. The four areas of focus:
- Cholesterol levels
- Lifestyle (diet and exercise)
- Obesity
- Individual risk assessment

Q. Who is more likely to receive statin therapy?

A. The new guidelines group adults into the four categories most likely to benefit from cholesterol-lowering drugs. They include people diagnosed with heart disease and diabetes, as well as those with high levels of LDL cholesterol. For all others, a new risk calculator has been developed which you can discuss further with your physician.

Q. What are the recommendations for combating obesity?

A. Obesity should be treated like a disease, and doctors should steer their patients toward lifestyle changes that include a healthy diet and regular exercise.

“Good dietary habits are absolutely essential,” says Dr. Fernandez. “A good goal is to have a majority of your daily calories come from vegetables, greens, beans, fruits, whole grains, nuts and seeds, and reduce the amount of processed meats and foods you consume.”

Both doctors agree the best strategy to lose weight and keep it off requires a three-pronged approach: Eat fewer calories than your body burns with a diet rich in natural foods, such as fresh fruits and vegetables and whole grains; and avoid refined and processed foods. Exercise more, and change unhealthy behaviors, including quitting smoking and limiting alcohol consumption.

Your doctor or cardiologist can help you determine your risk with an individualized assessment. Every person with risk factors is unique and may require different treatments based on lifestyle, family history and testing results.

Mardi Gras, which in French translates to Fat Tuesday, is officially the day before Ash Wednesday. Known as Carnival, Carnaval, Carnevale, Fat Tuesday, Shrove Tuesday, or Pancake Day, Mardi Gras is celebrated in many different ways around the globe, but eating well is a common theme. Celebrate Mardi Gras Around the World with The Islander’s Chef de Cuisine Betania Salles and The Clubhouse’s Chef de Cuisine Dominic Gorton, on Tuesday, March 4 at a Vine to Table Dinner accompanied by wines from Archery Summit Winery, and on Wednesday, March 5 in the Cooking School.

Chef Betania will bring recipes from her native Brazil and Chef Dominic will present recipes learned on a recent visit to Italy.

Introduce the spirit of Mardi Gras into your home this year with festive drink ideas. Have a variety of ingredients on hand to make traditional Mardi Gras cocktails such as Hurricanes, Ramos Gin-Fizz, or a classic Sazerac. Chicory coffee or non-alcoholic punches made with fruit juices and ginger ale are a great option for those who don’t wish to imbibe.

Executive Chef Damian Gilchrist, a Louisiana native, shares his recipes for special holiday drinks:

Big Easy Tropical Island Hurricane
Makes 1 drink
- 1 oz. vodka
- 1/4 oz. grenadine syrup
- 1 oz. gin
- 1 oz. light rum
- 1/2 oz. Bacardi® 151 rum
- 1 oz. amaretto almond liqueur
- 1 oz. triple sec
- grapefruit juice
- pineapple juice

Pour all but the juices, in order listed, into a hurricane glass three-quarters filled with ice. Fill with equal parts of grapefruit and pineapple juice, and serve. Garnish with choice of fruits such as cherries, oranges, pineapple wedges, mint and edible flowers.

Sazerac
Makes one drink
- 1 cube sugar
- 1 teaspoon cold water
- 1 ounce lemon-lime soda
- 1 ounce lemon-lime soda
- 1/2 ounce orange flower water
- 1/8 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 egg white
- 1/8 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 ounce orange flower water
- 1 ounce lemon-lime soda
- Orange wedge, for garnish

In bottom part of cocktail shaker, combine first 6 ingredients. Blend with stick or immersion blender for 30 seconds. Partly fill highball or old-fashioned glass with three or four large ice cubes. Pour in drink. Top with soda. Garnish with orange wedge.

Simple Syrup
Makes about 1/2 cup
Be sure to prepare the syrup at least a few hours before making drinks so that it has plenty of time to chill.

- 1 cup water
- 1 cup sugar

In heavy medium saucepan over medium heat, stir together water and sugar until sugar dissolves. Increase heat slightly, then simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Refrigerate syrup until cold, about 3 hours. (Can be prepared 1 week ahead. Cover and keep refrigerated.)

SPOT ON SHOPPING

Joan the Shopper

SIGNATURE SHOP has a nifty selection of caps. There’s a new style with the “scalloped over the ear” fit. It comes in many colors and is banded in white. Like all items in this shop the cap is branded with the Ocean Reef logo. (Kate Lord $24). . . Attention gentlemen: at the Signature Shop there are shorts that can double as swimming trunks and golf shorts that can go to dinner.

They are Liquid Flow, which is a good description of the feel-good polyester fabric. The shorts come in nice solid colors and the trunks in catchy aquatic prints ($68). Both are feather light and quick drying. The golf shorts have loops that are crying out for an Ocean Reef belt (navy with the iconic burgee $38). . . What little boy wouldn’t love a Magic T Shirt. It starts out as a black & white T with an aquatic scene (I favor the shark). Wear it in the sun and it bursts with color ($20). Sometimes life is like that. It’s bow until we get to Ocean Reef where the sun is shining and suddenly everything is 4 color (just like the OR Press).

Kumihimo or Your Computer
Which is More Unknown?

Kumihimo
Canvas is in awe of our artists who take on a new challenge and end up producing beautiful jewelry. The finished piece emerges from clever hands and creative energy. Linda Richman, instructor, learned the process of Kumihimo at a workshop in Tampa in 2007. She says, “I was into making dolls and looked for beads to add to my creations. This ancient Japanese art of braiding beads to add to my creations. This helps to string the beads. Linda brought samples of completed pieces, and each student chose her own project. The workshop was a beehive of laughter, industry, and the excitement of learning and using a new skill. The last Kumihimo workshop this season is for experienced braiders who want to explore more options. The dates are April 10, 11, 12. Call if interested.

Pam’s Back
The popular Polymer with Pam class rounds the bend for another couple of classes. On Monday, March 3 and Monday March 10, from 9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m., Pam will introduce Garden Art. Students will make whimsical little ‘critters’ that can sit on a shelf or watch over a patio garden. A variety of surface techniques will be covered: millefiori, molgume gane, texturing, stamping, and antiquing. All levels of experience are welcome. Come to learn a new skill and impressive jargon. And how is your mille fiori working out?

Jewelry with Merie
Is your jewel stash adding up after classes with our creative teachers? Merie Klink will be here on two Saturdays (she squeezes us in after her ORC week), March 8 and 15 from 9 a.m. – 3 p.m. She’ll demonstrate how to make a smooth fitting silver necklaces that says, “I’m a touch of glam for any outfit.” Skills to be taught are disk cutting, texturing, drilling, soldering, and more.

More Beading
Kathy King will be at the Art League for a three day workshop where you’ll encase round beads and create various other shapes with bead quilting. You’ll learn to attach the different shapes into a beautiful necklace. You’ll be instructed in peyote stitch which will open the door to a new technique and endless possibilities for making exotic jewelry. Can you imagine how you’ll feel when a friend says, “Did you make that gorgeous piece?” Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 29 & 30 from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. and March 30 and April 1, 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

Ladies Defend Doubles Title
Friends of Tennis Exhibition Players Announced

This past weekend the Tennis Center held the Doubles Club Championship and three new teams were crowned champions while two teams defended their titles. The most dramatic match of the tournament took place on Sunday in the Ladies’ “A” flight final as defending Champions Cyndee Swenson & Denise Ecuyer played the very strong hitting team of sisters-in-law Beatriz Gutierrez & Maria Gutierrez. The Gutierrez’s got off to a strong start using powerful topspin drives and deftly angled volleys to take the first set 6-3. However, after jumping out to a 3-1 lead Swenson & Ecuyer changed their tactics slowing their shots down and throwing up lobs to take away the net from the Gutierrez’s resulting in a great comeback as they won the second set 6-4. A super tiebreaker, 1st to 10 points, was played in lieu of a third set and once again the Gutierrez’s jumped out to a quick lead only to have Swenson & Ecuyer again take the air out of the ball, slowing the pace of their shots, frustrating their opponents into errors. With the score locked at 8 all, Swenson and Ecuyer dug deep and found a way to win the last two points clinching their second straight title.

In the Men’s “A” flight, Pete Swenson & Steve Woodsum lost the first game of the first set then went on a streak, winning 6 consecutive games against Wayne Rosen & Bob Ecuyer to win the set 6-1. In the second set, once again Rosen & Ecuyer took the first game only to see Swenson & Woodsum go on another win streak this time taking 3 games in a row putting the score at 3-1. However, Rosen & Ecuyer won the 5th game at love and then proceeded to knot the set at 6 all, forcing a tiebreaker to decide the set. In the tiebreaker Rosen & Ecuyer again got off to a great start as they took the first three points only to then see Swenson & Woodsum rattle off 7 of the next 8 points to secure the title.

In the ‘B’ ladies’ flight Heidi Roncarelli & Eve Rosen were played even through the first six games then turned it on winning the next nine games defeating the strong pairing of Janet Norris & Nancy Wood by the score of 6-3, 6-0. The ‘B’ flight men’s final found defending Champions Bruce Elliott & Gerry Henn too strong as they took a 6-1, 6-0 win over Kevin Cassidy & Steve Slovick. And in the Men’s “C” flight final first time participant Steve Rushmore & partner Bill Wonfor won a very close first set, 7-5, against the crafty team of Graham Thomas & Bud Miller before turning it on to win the second set 6-1. Be sure to congratulate all of these Club Champions when you see them around the Club!

Friends of Tennis

The Slice Serve

by Craig Kirchgessner

There are three key principles for the slice serve. First, the toss. The best tip I can provide for the toss is to imagine a clock in front of you. You want the toss to be in between twelve and one o’clock. Preferably a foot in front of the baseline. The second principle is hitting the correct part of the ball. Let’s use our clock analogy again. Imagine this time that the ball is a clock. You want to strike the ball between two and three o’clock. This slice (spin) acts as a mechanism for bringing your serve into the court rather than sailing out. Finally, the last principle to keep in mind is found in the legs. When you throw a baseball, you transfer your weight from your back foot to your front foot as you throw. The same is true for the serve. If there is not weight transfer, you are relying solely on your arm, which makes the serve lose power. If you transfer your weight, you will generate power behind the serve.

Bunker shots

To hit a good bunker shot you need to get really good at hitting the same place in the sand. You should hit the sand right in the center of your stance, where the ball would be on a pitch shot. In the sand the ball should be positioned nearer the front foot, a few inches in front of the center. Make the same swing you make with a pitch or three quarter shot, and hit the sand in the center of your stance. The sand will fly out of the bunker and the ball will fly out with it. Don’t try to get fancy with an open clubface and stance until you are good and consistent with the simple shot. Draw a line in the sand in the practice bunker, put the line in the center of your stance and get good at hitting the line and the sand will become your friend.

For really long bunker shots use the same technique and use either a gap or pitching wedge to get the ball to fly farther. You should never try to take less sand for a longer shot as that will lead to inconsistency and really big missed shots.

Boating Safety Tip
Life Jackets
by Peter Liashkek
Capt. Ocean Reef Coast Guard Auxiliary

As I sit by the pool watching the different types of boats go in and out of the channel I often wonder how many of these boats comply with federal and state regulations regarding personal floatation devices (PFD) or “life jackets”. The federal requirement is that you must have a PFD for everyone onboard, and all PFD’s must be the proper size for each person. They also must also be readily accessible. That means they should be stored in an area that is easily accessible so that you can put them on in a reasonable amount of time in case of emergency. They should not be in a compartment that is locked, kept in plastic bags, or placed underneath gear or supplies where they cannot be seen.

PFD’s are required by federal law for all children under 13 years old when the boat is underway unless the child is below decks or in an enclosed cabin. In addition, Florida State law requires that all children under the age of 6 must wear a PFD at all times if the boat is under 26 feet in length and underway, and also anyone operating a personal watercraft, “jet ski”, must also wear a PFD at all times! Another Florida regulation requires that a throwable device is required for all boats longer than 16 feet.

There are five types of PFD’s (I, II, III, IV and V) and each offers a different amount of flotation as well as each type of PFD is clearly marked on the jacket, usually on the inside, and all must have a Coast Guard Approval stamped in the jacket (again usually on the inside). This might be a good time to check the PFD’s on your boat to see if you comply!!

RECENT CATCH

Captain James Koch guided members Philip and Suzy Heilpern recently, releasing this Permit.

Colin Reed, his guest Ted, and Mr. Nice’s mate Dallas Hopper with one of the many nice Dolphin caught last week. This one weighed in at 30 Lbs.
Ah, sailing... it is an activity, a sport, a state of mind, and a passion... to win. We all set out to do our best, to learn, to grow, to sharpen our mind and our skills, to challenge our limits against the wind and the sea. It is a passion that parallels a driving force in the essence of life, the beauty and passion that parallels a driving force against the wind and the sea. It is a journey... to win.

This was a week to rise to victory. With sail training and team practices sharpening our skills and tactics, Commodore Ed and Sandy Kirschner swept a dominant and impressive 1st in the canal races with Dan Harding coming in a strategically run 2nd. After the races there was a welcoming reception at the home of the Johansen’s.

And a fantastic week of sailing it was this... winter... with warm temperatures and beautiful skies and oscillating breezes causing a reset of the course during Saturdays race.

Well done, Race Committee.

With the Magic-Dort Series drawing to a close there were victories, big or small. Regardless of whether you were in contention for the top three, sheer determination compelled us to come out for another day of racing.

So with great fervor, in come-from-behind-fashion, Nick Csendes forged a 5th and the Coffins took a 3rd in the first race, the Kirschner’s seized a 4th in the second race, and the Mullray’s captured a 3rd in the final race. But it was the immense determination of Dick Elliot and Larry Askew, coming out as a shining beacon of fortitude, rising from the depths of the middle of the fleet in this series taking two 1st’s and an overall 2nd for the day. Astounding!

But no great moments of victory could squelch the top three for the series overall. Strong runs early in the series held George Fenner to an overall 3rd, and Chris Streit, contending with the previously mentioned rising stars, was still able to secure a 2nd overall. Gary Sayia who has taken the day and the overall victory of the Magic-Dort Series, and the most beer glass trophies. So, when’s the keg party?!

Well, parties we do like, but of a finer sort, as our club members took a jaunt to the beautiful island of Boca Chita for a fabulously catered picnic luncheon, organized by Ann Lampman and Patty Lucas earlier this month. With a time of games and fellowship, it was fun for all, including our little ones.

So if this is the essence of life you seek, look no further than your sailboat on Card Sound.

Heard On The Course

The key to the first windward leg is to arrive at the weather mark in contention. Have a good start with a clear lane, making sure that the boat is going fast. Note where the fleet is going and think carefully before straying. Finally be in phase with the wind shifts (always sail the lifted tack). This was especially important Saturday given the fluctuating wind direction.

1,2,3 pounds a week and then suddenly...SLAM!! Brakes on!!! What the heck happened? You were losing weight so nicely for some time and then the needle on the scale just comes to halt. You're doing the same good stuff - watching your diet, exercising, and following the rules of engagement, right?

Well, the rules change. Your body becomes accustomed to the new you and adjusts to your diet and workout routine - so, you just might have to bump it up and change it up. “The only way to break through your weight-loss plateau and lose more body fat is to cut calorie intake further and/or burn more calories through exercise,” advises Dr. Kenney, of Pritikin. And as you lose weight and body fat, your BMR (the amount of calories your burn at rest) actually decreases. In other words, the calories you burn just being alive decrease, so your calorie intake must decrease and/or exercise increase to begin losing weight again.

The good news is that you are probably healthier than before and you can do more intense and longer duration of exercise. Here are a few plateau breaking helpful hints:

1. Eat Water-Rich (Not Fat-Rich) Foods. Your secret to success? Get as much satiety as you can for every calorie you eat. Vegetables and whole grains fill you up and make you feel satiated.

2. Ditch the Dry Stuff. Steer clear of dry foods, particularly high-fat choices, like chips, crackers, candy bars, trail mix, and cookies and other baked goods.

3. Start Out With a Big Satisfying Salad. Lunch and dinner start with a beautiful, colorful salad. (watch your dressings!)

4. Make Good Use of Your Soup Spoons. Vegetables, legumes, and high quality protein are a mix for healthy, low calorie soups.

5. Don’t Drink Your Calories. Watch out for alcohol, juices, sodas, and even protein shakes.

6. Get Simple. Lose the buffets and fancy dinners with cheeses, sauces, and gravies.

7. Get In Touch With Your Stomach Sometimes hunger is a habit. Also, being dehydrated can make you think you are hungry.

9. Pump It Up. Changing your workout can be a real plateau-breaker. As you get healthier, try spurts of more intense cardio, heavier weights, or just something different like switching your cardio-machine up. Perhaps one or two days a week , you can increase the duration of exercise - go for a long walk or paddle.

10. Keep Your Eye On the Prize. Remember WHY you are losing weight. When you set goals, ask yourself the big WHY’S and keep those goals and answers in sight.

Congratulations to the “Healthy Living Program” participants. The pounds are coming off and everyone is learning to live healthier. You are an awesome, strong, and very compliant group!
CROQUET NEWS

Tis’ The Season
by Betsy Caldwell

And Sundays are the days for the largest gatherings. One Sunday there were so many players that the courts were double and triple banked. This prompted one enthusiast to say, can we find another court NOW? The “Croquet Club” is unique – no waiting list for membership (open to everyone), no dues, just a shed with all the equipment and friends who play and are happy to teach.

One Sunday as the matches rotated on and off the courts, four men were waging an especially long fight. This also meant that because of the busy play, others were waiting to go through a wicket. The score was 3-2, so the winner of the 6th wicket either won the game or tied the game. The shots on the 6th wicket were so wonderfully incredible, knocking the opponents’ balls from across the court, that it took the winning team 20 minutes on that one wicket. But the team that had 3 points scored that wicket to end the match. Glad it was a cool afternoon! And then the group migrated to The Galley to continue the fun.

Teams rotate, with no set order for who plays. As mentioned above, sometimes four guys or four girls play, sometimes couples, and sometimes a total mix of guys and gals. This makes for lots of interesting play, as you can come and play without bringing a partner.

Duplicate Bridge results from Wednesday, Feb. 19 in the Ocean Room. For information, reservations, and partners – email louisa325@aol.com or phone 305-367-3630.

A promise, a commitment, a reassuring declaration. This is what the Value Proposition for the Ocean Reef Club really offers. A Promise that the unique value of the Club will be delivered through an amazing array of amenities available at a lower annual cost of ownership with the highest return of any comparable club. This Promise includes all the intangible experiences and traditions that make a club special and separate Ocean Reef from others. The Triple Golf Classic taking place this weekend is one example of the many traditions here at Ocean Reef. Now in its 22nd year, it brings members together and challenges them against each other as well as against the three very distinctive golf courses in the community.

We want to start a new tradition, one where the Ocean Reef Club Real Estate Company supports generations of families as they continue to grow within the community. A tradition where our promise of Member Satisfaction, Member Governance and Member Ownership, further enhance the Value Proposition. 47 listings, 9 new contracts, and it’s only the beginning… join us in building this tradition by connecting with your Real Estate Company. You will not be disappointed… after all, we promise.
